As Texas flood victims wait for water to recede to return to their homes, a massive relief effort is underway to get them help. Many of those groups are right here on the Alabama Gulf Coast.

Victory Life Church in Foley has answered the call for help many times in the past and is already on the ground in Texas bringing supplies and scouting areas to set up a long-term relief camp.

Many of the folks that have been evacuated have not been able to return to their homes and when they do, it will be a mess and cleaning it up will fall on their hands. They will need cleaning supplies and food. From the aftermaths of the West Virginia floods to the Tuscaloosa tornadoes, Victory Life Church has been there.

If you want to help, this is the place to start in Baldwin County. The office is open every day. You can bring in supplies that are needed. They have a warehouse on site to store it in. You can volunteer your time here or even make a trip to the disaster zone to help feed those in need. Of course, moving forward, donations of money are extremely important to order supplies and meet the changing demands of the situation in the flood zone. That can be done online at www.victorylifechurch.net.
